1. preliminary report on the use of Aquatone-02 device at the medical center "Biofarm test" (Moscow) during the period from 2011-12 to 2012-02.

For three months, tests were carried out of the Aquatone-02 in treatment of 53 patients with various diseases of the lungs, gastrointestinal tract and urogenital systems.

The Aquatone-02 device shows very high efficiency (over 85%) in lung diseases. Even without the use of antibiotics, both in the acute treatment of combination of drugs for chronic bronchitis, pneumonia, emphysema, with reduced breathing and reduced heart failure. Used in position 1, 3 times daily for 15 minutes. Particularly effective in the treatment of acute forms of diseases. Chronic forms require a greater number of sessions. In the treatment of chronic diseases associated with homeopathic medicines and pharmaceutical plant collections increases efficiency.

In diseases of the digestive tract, Aquatone-02 showed moderate effects. Such use is recommended in combination with drugs.

The device is also effective in the treatment of hepatitis. Use of the device in case of acute pyelonephritis and pierit was very effective (without antibiotics, more than 95%). In the treatment of Glomerulonephritis noted the greatest effect in connection with homeopathic remedies.

In chronic appendicitis and mesenteritis, the inflammation reduces and relieves pain. This reduces the temperature and leukocytosis.
